MAKING TIME® has five (5) Program Outcomes:

Our Participants report the following significant outcomes after being in our Program:

- 1) ADAPTABLE – They quickly adapt to any changes in their calendar.
- 2) ANALYZE – They know how to analyze how much time they need for their tasks and plan accordingly.
- 3) ARCHITECT – They experience being the "architect" of their time, regardless of duration settings (day, month, year), such that they can manage their time successfully.
- 3) BUILD – They build time structures for their personal lives and businesses that promote accomplishment.
- 4) MODEL – They use time tools to model different time scenarios and can select the most useful ones to follow.
- 5) SOLVE – They have an understanding of time that allows them to solve any issues regarding the need for time.

MAKING TIME® is based on over 200 academic research papers and articles about human beings' relationship with time, and its component parts and is delivered inside interesting conversations, exercises, and films.

Discussions using examples from your own life have you transform your fundamental relationship to time and give you a structure to create time the way you want it to be.
